

2018 Course Evaluations

Opinions of course, including printed materials.

- A little out of my comfort zone, but that is why I took it. I enjoyed the challenge of the course content.
- The course is great!
- I think this class is suitable for people with great interest in genetic or with biological background. As a statistic major, I find it challenging and time-consuming for just a homework assignment. But I think I learned a lot, and I believe I learned more than I spend.

Qualities of Instructor which contributed to success of the course.

- Dr. Bacher is very cool. I really enjoyed the flow of her class and the tone she sets. She is developing the course since she is a new faculty member and even still she had to do some thing on the fly she was always attentive to make updates in the literature and send clarifications. I really appreciated that quality.
- Professor Bacher organizes the course well and always prepares well before classes. She is willing to help and very nice!
- Well prepared for every class and also with great effort put into the slides, she did a great job in making the class interesting and intriguing.
